The Grand-jury ands its final report is the Criminal Court trans and returned an indictment charging nurder in the first degree against Henry Kiser, Jacob Henze and Charles McDonald charging them with mur-dering Edwin E. Bown on March 2 last. The fatal assault took pace on Garrison avenue, near Franklin aveue, the purpose of the men being toboers.

Two indictments charging fraud, were found against Willim Whalen, President of the St. Peter's Minig Co., charging him with defrauding Dr. Fran J. Lutz out of $1,000 and Henry Nickiaus $1, 10. management of the sty Hospital. The portion of the report reating to the City Hospital is as follows:

"Quite a number of improvements are necessary in this lightlution. New water-closets in some porions would materially improve its sanitar condition. The basement requires new Booring. More money is needed for paid help and dry good. The so-called cottage of patients afficted with contagious diseases is a disgraceto the institution. This building has a capacty for but eight beds, while often as many as twenty-five are required. The boiler-room ought to be covered with a froi roof. A dummy for carrying the mean to the wards could be run by steam, as steam power is abundant. Some irregularities were found in the store found. At simply butter tub was welghed, showing over twelve pounds in weight, white only eight pounds are allowed the institution for inne. The departments with the are generally in a clean condition. The superintendent of nurses says ten additional surges are needed.

"In the rangement of the City Hospital we find abuses have grown up that should be at once corrected. It has come to our knowledge that serious cases have in some instances been intrusted to assistant physicians while under the influence of intext and to such an extent as not to possess the use of their faculties, and that it is not unusual

That such mes should be retained in the responsible position of physician and the lives of the size and injured placed in their hunds is inexplicable, and, in our opinion, step schoold be taken at once by the authorities but whose hands the responsibility for the unangement of the City Hospital is intrusted by the people to correct this outraceus the is.

There are the order to the insane Asylum, the report sets both, take it has suitable accommodations for only $20. The steam pipes require repairing, and the kitchen is without proper ventilation. The institution is in a very clean condition. One of the inmates suggested to the jurors while they were visiting the institution of many confined in the asylum would be promoted by providing them with books and papers file report recommends that reading matter be provided for such of the inmates as can make use of it.

FEMALE HOSPITAL.

FEMALE HOSPITAL. The Female Hospital was found to be in a good sanitary condition. Some improvements in the dining-room for employes are suggested, and separate wards for colored women are recommended.

There are 530 insane patients in the Poorhouse and about the same number of paupers. Iron beds are suggested instead of the wooden ones now used. The plastering and ceiling needs repairing. The institution is very clean and in a good sanitary condition.

institution is very clean and in a good sanitary condition.

The ventilation of the domitories of the House of Refuge was found defective. The separation of the white from the colored inmates, and the well-behaved from the criminal is recommended. Everything was found satisfactory at the Workhouse. The management of the City Jail is pronounced to be of first-class order. Some repairs are recommended to the building, and it is suggested that the Grand-jury rooms at the Four Courts be thoroughly cleaned and renovated. During the March terms 127 true bills were returned and seventeen bills ignored.

REECTION FRAUDS.

The report closes as follows: ELECTION FRAUDS.

The report closes as follows:

"In the matter of frauds said to have been committed in the late primary elections, and a large number of witnesses have been brought before us. Their testimony has convinced us of the fact that illegal practices have unquestionably been resorted to, but tangible evidence to warrant indictment has not been obtainable.

We take pleasure in acknowledging the ability and courteous manner displayed by the Assistant Circuit Attorney in the discharge of his duties before the Grand-jury.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Jesse McDonaid said to-day that he intended presenting some evidence before the next Grand-jury regarding the election of last Tuesday but did not indicate what the nature of the testimony is.

Caught in the House.

Hayes Montgomery, colored, was sent to the Workhouse from the Second District Police Court this morning to work out a $100 fine for malicious trespass. Yesterday morning Montpomery went to the residence of John Goldsmith at 705 North Eighteenth street and was rumaging about the house when caught by Goldsmith who covered him with a revolver and held him until an officer arrived. The defendant claimed that he was looking for his sister, but the authorities think he was there to steal. Montgomery bears a bad reputation and only a few days ago was released from the Workhouse where he served a sentence for frequenting disreputable houses. fine for malicious trespass. Yesterday morn

WORST IN TWENTY YEARS.

Forest Fires in Ohio and West Virginia do Great Damage.

POMEROY, O., April 10.-The forest fires in this section have been the worst for twenty years, owing to the drought and high winds On the West Virginia side the fire from the burning of Clifton spread to the hill and burnt miles of fences and hundreds of acres On the Ohio side there have been numerou

On the Ohlo side there have been numerous fires of minor importance, the greatest being near Walkerville, where 25,000 rails and one section of timber had been burned in Meigs County.

In Vinton County there were three sections burned over, from which the timber had been cut off last season, and which was a mass of leaves and brush. Several small houses were burned on these lands. The copious rains of last night have placed everything out of danger.

A PRAIRIE FIRE INCIDENT. WALLACE, Neb., April 10 .- Mrs. Ogier, re siding ten miles from this place, left her home to get a better view of the prairie fire. The fire was burning at a terrific rate, and before Mrs. Ogier was aware of the fact she was caught by the flames and burned to death.

STANBERRY, Mo., April 10 .- Lee Newha nd Lon Stites were arrested for being drunk early yesterday morning and locked up i the jail here. It is thought that they at-tempted to burn their way out, for a few hours after their incarceration the building was totally destroyed by fire. The men's bodies were almost consumed by the fiames, only portions of the trunks remaining.

SWEPT PRAIRIES. LEXINGTON, Neb., April 10 .- Twenty thou and dollars will not cover the loss of prop erty by the prairie fire in the vicinity Overton and Farnam. A man by the name of Strickland lost everything he had. An unknown man was burned so badly that he died from his injuries.

A STRANGER CREMATED. SHREVEFORT, La., April 10.—Fire destroyed the Davis Hotel. Loss, $2,000. A number of lodgers were in the hotel at the time of the fire. A stranger and a man by the name of Jones were cremated.

SAVED BY RAIN. GUTHRIE, O. T., April 10 .- An exploding gasoline stove started a fire in the Capital lodging-house last night which resulted in loss of $30,000. Four business buildings be loss of $30,000. Four business buildings belonging to Winfield Smith, A. H. Richmond and A. F. Wright were burned with all contents, including M. Collar's hardware stock, A. H. Richmond's stock of furniture and Henry Lorris' stock of noveities and a dozen small concerns. J. I. Brown and A. K. Ratbburn were both badly injured by falling buildings. A pouring rain alone saved the city from being largely swept away.

A BOY LOST HIS LIFE. BALTIMORE, Md., April 10 .- In the destruct tion by fire Saturday night of the Baltimore & Lehigh freight depot, George McGreevy, aged 18, was burned to death.
A serious loss to the railway company by the fire is the destruction of all the plans and drawings for changing the gauge of the road, work on which was commenced last week.

ATTACKED HIS CHARACTER A Candidate for Receiver Put on the De-

ATLANTA, Ga., April 10.-The application of the Central Trust Co. of New York for the appointment of a co-receiver for the Marietta & North Georgia Railroad, naming Elias Summerfield as the person they desire electd, was taken up by Judge Newman of the United States Court on Saturday. Amdavits were introduced by the defense making an attack on Mr. Summerfield's character, who indignantly denied the charges. The case was carried over until next Saturday.

INCORPORATED TO OWN A FRANCHISE. HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, April 10. - The names f the incorporators of the Nova Scotia Coal & Ratiroad Co. are Hon. John Chandler and John C. Cobb; David S. Baker, Jr., Providence; Wm. J. Frazier of Halifax; A. C. Ross of North Sydney; ex-Mayor Patrick Mullen of Hailfax; R. H. Frazier of Pictou and John McKeen of Mabou. The mines controlled by the syndicate are known as Broad and Chimney Corner groups, estimated to contain 200,000,000 tons of coal, or 50,000,000 tons more than the Whitney syndicate mines.

POSTPONED ANTHOW. ATLANTA, Ga., April 10 .- A petition filed by John Byrne and others of New York to postpone the sale of the Chattanooga Southern which was to have taken place here the first Monday in May, has been denied by Judge Monday in May, has been denied by Judge Newman, but the sale of the road has been postponed. It appears that the new law just passed by Congress directing that all United states Marshals' sales shall be made in the county where the property advertised is located, has intervened and given the gentlemen who petitioned just what they wanted. Judge Newman has issued an order postponing the sale until it can be readvertised and has named the place of sale as Gadsden, Ala. No date has been named, as that will be left to the commissioner.

M'BRIDE EXONERATED. Gov. Lewelling Fails to Sustain Charges Against the Insurance Commissioner. TOPEKA, Kan., April 10 .- Gov. Lewelling this morning gave his decision in the Insur ance Commissioner case, exonerating Commissioner McBride, and says he cannot find sufficient cause for his removal. The Gover-nor critically criticises those who brough the charges and says they are not sustained. Concerning the charge that McBride had failed to collect certain taxes in certain States, the Governor says the power to collect the tax is ambiguous and turns on the construction of statutes.

A HEATER EXPLODES.

One Man Killed and Another Seriously Injured in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 10 .- An explosion in the Chicago Rubber Works on West Ohio street, this morning, caused by a defective heater, killed Phillip Fogarty and so seriously injured Jesse McCue, another em-ploye, that his recovery is considered doubt-ful. The works were damaged to the extent of $1,000.

THEY STOOD ON THE TRACK. CINCINNATI, O., April 10.—Nicholas Stuer and his wife were standing on the platform at the railroad station of the Baltimore & Ohio road. When they heard a locomotive whistle they stepped on to the track to look for the west-bound train, when one going the other way struck them, manging both in a frightful manner.

Exciting Scene at St. Lawrence O'Toole's Church.

Father Brennan Ejects Parishioners and is Loudly Threatened.

THE PASTOR AND JAMES BOYLE HAVE AN ALTERCATION.

Detective Smith, Who Was One of the Ejected, Allays the Ire of the Crowd-The Trouble Due to the Failure of Attendants to Taxe Seats and Their Blocking Up the Entrance to the Church-Father Brennan's Statement.

An attempt to institute a much needed reorm at the St. Lawrence O'Toole Church. Fourteenth and O'Fallon streets, yesterday norning, resulted in a persona between priest and parll-feeling in the congregation. For some ime past the reverend fathers officiating at this church have been much disturbed by a practice prevalent among many of the worshippers who arrive late at the serv-ices, of standing up at the back of the pews and more or less blocking up the entrances. So common has this practice become that it had been decided to adopt measures to remedy evil. The first step toward this end was taken some time ago when a notice, printed in bold face type, was placed on the doors of the church setting forth the legend that "huddling at the doors of the church is very disedifying." Little or no attention was paid to this re-monstrance and the source of annoyance continued to be as great as ever. Fully resolved to break up the habit, the priests decided upon a personal word of warn ing from the pulpit, and for several Sunday's past notice has been read at each mass that all persons who attended service would be required to take seats, those who were too all persons who attended service would be required to take seats, those who were too poor to rent regular seats, or to pay the customary 10 cents charge for a seat, would be accommodated with a free pass through the St. Vincent de Paul Society upon application at the residence of the priests. This regulation, it was announced, would go into effect from May I next, and all who could afford to do so were requested to rent pews before that date.

Many of the parishioners were inclined to take umbrage at the stand taken by the priests and were a little inclined to dispute the authority by which they undertook to dispose of a custom of such long standing. Yesterday at each of the masses the late arrivals and those who preferred to remain at the back in the shadows to marching down the aisle and paying 10 cents for a seat, remained standing in the rear as usual. At the 9 o'clock mass the crowd around the door was especially thick, while more than one-half the pews in the body of the church were unoccupied. Several ladies who arrived after services had commenced experienced quite a little difficulty in making their way through those congregated at the doors, and were not slow to make complaints in consequence. Two ladies are said to have gone direct to Fr. Martin Brennen to register a 'kick,'' and from subsequent developments they evidently succeeded in raising his indignation to a high pitch. At all events he decided that the time for decisive action had arrived.

Fr. Watson was officialting at this mass and cisive action had arrived.

PRIEST AND FARISHONERS CLASH.
Fr. Watson was officiating at this mass and had just reached the elevation when Fr. Brennan made his appearance at the front door of the church and undertook to disperse that portion of the congregation kneeling to their devotions there. Interrupting the proportion of the congregation kneeling to their devotions there. Interrupting the proceedings with small regard, he quietly announced that all gathered there must either take seats or get out. When the first surprise at this announcement had died away quite a number moved down the aisle and took seats; others, however, remained where they were in apparent disregard to the command. Incensed by this disobedience Fr. Brennan repeated the order and by way of emphasis held open the door for the exit of those who refused to heed his injunction. Realizing what was required of them about twenty-five or thirty indignant worshippers rapidly filed out to the accompaniment of subdued and muttered grumblings. One man, however, remained on his knees in his original position. He either could not hear the order or would not obey.

accompaniment of subdued and muttered grumblings. One man, however, remained on his knees in his original position. He either could not hear the order or would not obey.

Striding over to where the man was kneeling Fr. Brennan once more repeated his mandate, and taking him by the lappel of his coat obliged him to stand up. The man was James Boyle, a bollermaker living at 1415 North Thirteenth street, and a resular worshipper at the church. He is slightly deaf and had not properly heard the priest's words.

"You have sither got to take a seat or get out of here," reiterated Y. Brennan in a louder tone, attempting to lead him toward the door. Then, Inding him still unwilling, he added: "I will not have anyone standing up in my church.

"This is not your church, but is the House of the Lord and the property of this congregation," was Boyle's answer.

The remonstrance only further angered the already excited priest, who replied by a threat to summons a policeman and have him ejected. More words followed and Fr. Brennan, it is said, took the law into his own hands and attempted to force the man from the building. A struggle ensued during which Royle was thrown or knocked to the ground. With a muttered curse he rose to his feet and slowly made his way out of the building closely followed by the priest. About fifty members of the congregation who had witnessed the encounter also followed the pair to the sidewalk and expressed their indignation in no measured terms. A number of the more excitable indulged in open threats to mob his reverence, and for a moment matters assumed a threatening aspect. Detective Smith, who was one of those ordered to leave the church, created a momentary diversion by showing his star and threatening to arrest the first man who raised any disturbance, during which Fr. Brennan walked rapidly from the scene and sought it shelter of his residence, which addithed his way from the congregation of the congregation who were common to the church at the time of the occurred of the church at the seat o row of seats. They crowd in there so thick that pew-holders cannot make their way through to their seats, and what is more they have to go through the crowd at the peril of their pocketbooks. There are few respectable people in the crowd around the door. They are of the sodden, bleary-eyed type and are a disgrace and a menate to the congregation. Of course, reputable church members who come late to majority of them are not a credit to the religion they profess. World's Fair Workmen Want Their Unions Recognized.

reputable church members who come late to service get among them at times, but the majority of them are not a credit to the religion they profess.

'Now, as to the amair of yesterday. I had been attending a sodality across the street and as I crossed over I met two ladies who said. 'It's too bad we cannot get into church.' 'And why not?' said I. 'It is impossible to get through the crowd. I went to the church entrance and found what they said was true. There was a solid wall of humanity, six men deep, across the doorway. I asked several men to step outside for a moment to give the ladies room to pass. They did so without any fuss or trouble till 1 came to this old man who was kneeling in the center of the aisle. I asked him to move and he refused. When I insisted he ishowed suiliness and I told him I would call a policeman. I could not find an officer, so I came back and took hold of the man by his coat and lifted him to his feel and escorted him out. There was no scuffle and little confusion. Some dozen people left the church attogether, and I did not notice any commotion outside, as I went to the residence immediately. The men may have done some loud talking after I left, but not in my hearing."

''Did you know the man was deaf?''

''I did not and I don't think he was. He was only surly and obstinate.''

''Old you show him?''

''Old you showe him?''

If the thing happens again though, I will use force and showe or kick out anyone that persists in disobeying the regulations. I am sorry the thing occurred, but I hope it will be a warning to the people and stop a custom that for the people's own benefit must be eradicated. It is not f can come to the earlier masses when pews are free or gain free access to them by other channels.

THE PARISHIONERS' VIEWS.

Fr. Brennan's parishoners are divided in their views of his action yesterday. Quite a number side with their pastor, others again say he was over-hasty in his treatment of the latter day publicans who stand without the gates of the temple. His supporters claim that the crowd about the door is an intolerable nuisance. One of them remarked this morning. 'There are all sorts and conditions of people in the crowd about the doors, but many of them are young fellows, well enaugh dressed to be able to come to church ingline and pay for a pew, but they are not built that way and stand back so that their friends can not see that they appeared to be able to come to church ingline and pay for a pew, but they are not built that way and stand back so that their friends can not see that they are unwilling to put any money on the plate when it is passed. Fr. Brennan is right in trying to make the meither be of the congregation or stay without.

The other side tell a different story. According to them there are many men in the congregation who could not bring themselves to walk up the alse of the church when comfortably filled. Others again claim that in their hurry to get in time for service they neglect to don as elaborate a toilet as they would wish to wear if sitting among the pew-holders. Some again say that when they are late for church they have a natural aversion to parading it before the congregation. And of such as all these is the door-step crowd made up. It may be well to say that Fr. Brennan's supporters are decidedly in the majority and though all may not approve of his methods they are, at least, in sympathy with his principle.

The doorstep crowd is an irritating problem that every Catholic priest has to contend with, and Fr. Brennan's crusade will be watched with keen interest by his fellow-clergymen.

MAYOR NOONAN'S SUDDEN ILLNESS. He Was at the Hall Just Before the Inauguration-Brennan's Stamp.

The friends of ex-Mayor E. A. Noonan are greatly chagrined at his absence from the inaugural ceremonies last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Noonan was in the Mayor's office until 2:40 p. m. Saturday, and his last official act, the vetoing of the Forest Park Belt Railway, occurred at that hour, while the preliminary arrangements to the inauguration were being made. He left the off this act, however, and, it is said, he went home sick. This morning he could not be seen, but it was ascertained that he was seen, but it was ascertained that he was hidden away in his domicile, No. 1885 Madison street, and could not be seen. Ex-Secretary Jim Brennan stated that the ex-Mayor had a bad fever and was at home, while the servant at the Noonan mansion said he had been suffering from an attack of rheumatism, but had gone out to-day.

The ex-Mayor's offices in the Wainwright Building were deserted all morning, but the following card from A. J. Padberg, ex-Mayor Noonan's page, was found on the door:

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Col. Jones of St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.-Col. C. H. Jones of St. Louis was a visitor at the White House to-day and secured about two minutes' conversation with the Presi-dent. After that he spent some time in the marble room of the Senate, taiking to Senators Vest and Cockrell. Ex-Gov. Fran-cls, while here, said that Jones was respon-sible for the Republican victory in St. Louis, and Jones is vigorously denying this.

READY TO ADJOURN. WASHINGTON, April 10 .- The Senate has agreed to a resolution offered by Mr. Harris (Dem., Tenn.) for the appointment of a committee to wait upon the President and inform him that unless he has some further communication to make the Senate is ready to adjourn without delay. A motion to reconsider was subsequently made by Mr. Hoar (Rep.), and was entered. entered.

Resolutions for investigation of the charges against Senators Reach of North Dakota and Powers of Montana were offered by Messrs, Hoar and Chandler and were laid Messrs. Hoar and Chandler and were laid over until to-morrow.

Mr. Hoar's object in moving a reconsideration was to secure action upon the Roach investigation resolution before adjournment.

The Senate Committee on Finance will hold its regular weekly meeting to morrow and will take up the nominations that are now before it and make its report to the Senate. The only nomination of importance still to be acted upon is that of Mr. Eckels of Illinois, nominated to be Comptroller of the Currency. It seems likely that this case, will be finally disposed of to-morrow, and that a favorable recommendation will be made. Such a recommendation will be equivalent to confirmation.

FOUR THOUSAND LABORERS AWAITING THE RESULT OF ARBITRATION.

President Riggenbotham of the Fair Comtrate-Scanes About the Gates This Morning When the Dinner-Fall Brigade Arrived - A March Through the Grounds-Police Interference-Cause of the Trouble.

CHICAGO, April 10 .- At the most critical me possible for the World's Fair, the big Exposition to-day encountered its first great strike. A thousand union men quit work with a prospect that 4,000 more might join in the tampede before night. It was the culmina tion of much controversy over what is claimed to be an agreement between the World's Fair officials and the representatives of union labor, by which all disputes between employers and employes on Exposition work were to be settled by arbitration tion officials have recently shown a disposi tion, now that the Fair is nearly completed to deny point blank anything asked, and this has notably been the case in the car-penters' troubles which have been pending for some time, the Exposition authorities, it s alleged, declining to sign the scale proposed by the Carpenters' Union for the new season, although a majority of the large con-tractors in the city had signed. To-day was named by the business agents of the Building Trades Council as the final time at which arbitration must be assented to if a strike

Early this morning the emissaries detailed to spread the news of the order for a general strike at Jackson Park, issued by the Building Trades Council, were on hand at the va-rious entrances to the Fair Grounds. The delegates were quickly strung along the fence from Sixty-seventh street to Fifty-sixth street in regular picket line formation.

George Gary, the President of the Bridge workers' Union, was marshal of the forces, and with the willing assistants his work of detailing was well done. Each side of the street leading to the grounds was picketed on both sides of the walk to make the canvass of incoming workers as complete as Stump speeches on their grievances became the order of the moment, and more re-cruits were added to the ranks. At 9:45 o'clock a party of delegates started in at the Forty-fifth street gate to make a tour of the grounds. The party walked rapidly, and by the time the Transportation. Cold Storage, Electricity, Mining, Administration, Agricul-tural and Machinery Buildings had been passed the party, augmented to nearly 200, brought up at the Liberal Arts Building.

The jubilant crowd of strikers began che ing and throwing hats in the air, but was soon quieted by the leaders, who recognised soon quieted by the leaders, who recognised the danger of overdong the matter and the possibility of the demonstration becoming riotous. An order for dispersal was given, and laughingly obeyed.

The trades represented in the strike are the carpenters, painters, ornamental iron workers, hod carriers, tin and sheet iron workers, cornice workers, steam fitters, gas fitters, electrical workers, mosaic workers, lathers, gas and electrical fixture hangers, cement finishers, fresco painters, hoisting

To say that a general and protracted strike of the men employed in and about Jackson Park would be unfortunate would be putting it mildly, unfortunate for the Exposition management, for the workmen and for the Fair. Chiefly, however, the World's Fair would guffer.

Fair. Chieny, however, the World's Fair would suffer.

Disaster In Delay.

It is of extreme importance that it should be as nearly complete as possible on the opening day, three weeks hence. Two or three days of delay now might make it impossible for the management to keep its promise to the public that everything would be complete on the lat day of May.

Work must go on without interruption or President Cleveland on his arrival here to start the machinery of the Fair going may find nothing but chaos. General opinion is that the plain duty of all concerned is to come together, discuss the points at issue calmly and amicably, and arrivest an agreement without loss of time. Neither side, it is frequently asserted, could afford to assume a defiant and uncompromising attitude with the whole world watching the contest and passing judgment upon its merits.

By 9 o'clock about 2,000 men all told had out work an appression of the contest and passing judgment upon its merits.

By 9 o'clock about 2,000 men all told had guit work. An hour later 1,500 electrical workers went out.

THREATENING TALK.

Decisive action was taken by the Construction Department and orders issued to the uniformed guards to remove delegates found actively soliciting men to quitwork. From that time on the patrol wagon calls were pretty frequent. The prompt removal of agitators angered the crowds of men at the gates and a good deal of threatening talk was indulged in. Numerous personal encounters occurred between strikers under the influence of liquor and non-union men who showed a disposition to go to work. Finally a squad of officers was called out, who ordered the men to either go to work or leave the vicinity. This latter orders they were slow to obey, and as a result several received some hard raps from the officers' clubs, who, after a half hour's work succeeded in forcing the men across the street, where they haid them by patrolling up and down in front of them.

The men out seemed confident of success on the theory that the work of the Fair is so far from completion and the time until the Exposition opens so short. On the other hand Supt. Richardson said that the strike would not affect the work, as he could got all the mechanics he wanted. The men assessment the hypothing to scores of agas which have been conspicatorally placed about the grounds. They are if more help was needed last week much greater is the demand now.

ASTRIKE OF SENTIMENT.

The strike was one of sympathy. Last Tuesday the Carpenters' Council presented its annually prepared scale for employing contractors to sign. Most of them in the city and at the Exposition agreed, the main provisions being 40 cents an hour as the minimum of wages and eight hours to constitute a day. The Exposition company was practically conforming to these conditions, but refused to sign a clause requiring the employment of union men only.

J. B. Cogswell, President of the Carpenters' Council, then ordered a strike of the carpenters. There were only about 300 carpenters employed by the Exposition company and not all of them obeved the order. The strike was a practical failure and most of the men returned to work during the last week. The matter was carried to the Building Trades Council and Saturday a manifesto to the Exposition managers was prepared which threatened that unless the demands of the carpenters were acceded to a general strike would be ordered this morning. The manifesto was presented to President Higginbotham Saturday night. He read it carefully and said he would do nothing whatevar. To-day's strike was the result.

At Sixty-second street the city police had a smart tussle with the crowd of idlers gathered about the gate. An order to clear the sidewalks was received with a hoot of derison and the police rapped several heads before the throng could be forced back. As a rule, however, the strikers were quiet and orderly and contented themselves with arguments rather than violence.

Ameeting of the directors of the Fair and the leaders of the strike began just before noon. Previous to the meeting the labor representatives held a consultation with President Higginbotham. There was nothing to arbitrate. President Higginbotham was not the least dismayed when he heard the men had gone out, the Fair was a gigantic enterprise which no labor strike could seriously affect. Every place would be filled, and that soon. The question of em but not enough to do any general overhauling.

The strikers have not congregated about the shops and there is no excitement visible. Should the strike continue for several days all of the men in the car shops will be laid off, as with the locomotive shop lide there will be no work for them.

No attempt has been made by the company to fill the place of the strikers, and none will be made until every possible effort has been made to settle the trouble. The men who are out will not discuss their grievance, but they admit that the wages offered by the company are entirely satisfactory. They insist, however, that the company sign a contract with the union, which the company positively refuses to do. Some of the union men are at work to-day, and others say that they will return to-morrow if the strike is not deciared off by that time.

A Chicago Suicide Not Known in St. Louis or Mobile.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 10 .- Will A. Gilbert, a time-keeper at the Pullman car shops in this city, committed suicide yesterday by drown-ing himself in Lake Michigan. Gilbert had been drinking heavily for a year past, and died a victim of melancholy, remorse and dissipation. When he first came to Chicago he informed friends that for a year past he had acted in the capacity of clerk at the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, and during the past year he had spent $150,000, a fortune left him by his father, a weaithy planter residing at Mobile, Ala. His body now lies on a siab in the Morgue, between other unclaimed bodies.

Inquiry being made at the Soutbern and other hotels in St. Louis, reveals the fact that ne man by the name of Gilbert ever clerked in any hotel in this city. A gentleman from Mobile, Ala., stopping at the Southern, when shown the above telegram, stated that Gilbert was either a fraud or had misrepresented himself. The only Gilbert residing in Mobile is the senior member of the firm of Gilbert, Bell & Co., owner of a large foundry. Gilbert has no children. The Gilbert who committed suicide in Chicago is not known in St. Louis.

THE MOTORNEER'S CARRLESSNESS SAID TO HAVE CAUSED THE ACCIDENT.

No. 1 on Tenth and Wash Streets at an Early Hour This Morning-List of the Injured. At 6:15 this morning a collision occurred at Tenth and Wash streets, between Car No. 1 of the Northern Central Hallway Co. and Car No. 16 of the Benton-Bellefontaine Co., in which four men were danger jured and a number of others mos cut and bruised. The horse car was in charge of Conductor James Lewis, the driver being George W. Long of 1509 Glasgow avenus. The motorman of the Bellefontaine car was G. B. Lasley and the conductor Wm. B. Gamblin.

THE INJURED.

The injured were:
John Dotle, 336 North Third Street.
Lenoardo Salvadora, 706 Wash street.
Joseph Spautria, 67 Franklin avenue.
Joseph Spautria, 67 Franklin avenue. JOSEPH DANNA, 708 Franklin avenue. VINCENT DEBLUS, 708 Morgan street. FRANK GAOP, Seventh and Carr streets.

ANTONIA GORDIA. JOSEPH LANSI. MICHABL LEGUSO.

Doyle, Salvadora, Spagutia, and Damma were sent from the Dispensary to the City Hospital where the last two were treated and sent home. Doyle has a number of cuts on the head and neck besides abrasions of different parts of the body and a severe tusion of the back. Salvadora has an injured back and wounds on the temple and scalp. Dr. Born of the Hospital staff pronounced the injuries necessarily fatal. The injuries of the ot though severe are not dangerous. These men were all on the rear platform of the Northern Central car, and were thrown on the track of the Bellefontaine, the motor car striking and running on them before it stopped. A crowd of citizens immediately surrounded the motor car and lifted it bodily from the track, while the injured were dragged from beneath the wheels, covered with blood and dirt. Engine Co. No. 18 hurried to the spot, bringing jacks to raise the car and water for the injured. John Doyle, who was the most seriously hurt, was only able to moan about his back and arm while the blood poured in street from cuts in his head and neck. In a smo ered way he answered inquiries cor Doyle was conveyed to the City Hospital.

Vincent Dables, Antonio Gordia, Josaph Sanzi and Michael Siguso were removed to their homes in the patrol wagon of the Third Police District. The Northern Central car

Police District. The Northern Central car had its running gear totally smashed, broken car wheels and pieces of broken axies being strewn right and left. The car was afterwards removed to the side of the rack.

DRIVER LONG'S STORY

Geo. W. Long, the driver, a "I was crossing the Bellefontaine trace being partially over, when I sawed the Bild car coming at such a rate of a over. The other car was coming faster than I ever saw an electric car moving. I saw the motorneer make a motion as if to put on his brake, and then jump and run before the crash came. I heard no bell ring or other alarm."

THE CONDUCTOR'S STORT.

Mr. W. M. Gamblin, the conductor of the Bellefontaine car, was not able to throw much light upon the collision. He said that he was inside collecting a fare when the accident occurred. He had taken a quarter from a passenger and had just made change and rung up the fare when the motor was suddenly reversed and the brake was applied. He looked forward to see what the trouble was, and saw a Northern Central car directly on the track and not more than twenty feet from the Bellefontaine car. Then the collision occurred and the Northern Central car was holsted off the track. He then set himself to collecting names of witnesset to the accident and such other particulars as the rules of the company enjoined, and then his car completed its trip. Mr. Gamblin could not say how fast the Bellefontaine car was running at the time, as he was not paying particular attention, but he was inclined to think that hotorman Lasley was not going at an undue rate of speed for that crossing. He had been running with paying particular attention, but he was inclined to think that Motorman Lasier was not going at an undue rate of speed for that crossing. He had been running with Lasier for six months, and Lasier, he said, had the reputation of being one of the coolest motormen on the road.

He did not believe that Lasley would be found to have exceeded the speed that was proper when approaching a crossing.

THE MOTORMAN NOT SEEN.

The Bellefontaine motorman was Mr. Geo. Lasier. There was a rumor that he sized up the collision and its results and skipped. This story had no foundation. He staid with the car and looked after the details of the accident, and then, when the coast was clear, took the car down town and completed the trip to the car-house, where he laid himself off. He then went to his home, 2015 Penrose street, just around the corner from the Bellefontains power-house.

HE KILLED A BOY LAST SUMMER.

Some months ago Lasley run over and killed a boy at Eleventh and Biddie streets. It was a case where a boy who was trying to catch a ball backed directly under the car. Lasley was going at his usual speed, and yet he had the presence of mind to stop his car before the wheels ran over the boy? s body, but he was crushed to death. A Coroner's jury acquitted Lasley of all blame. This deplorable affair weighed upon Lasley's mind, and he brooded over it a good deal. Lately he has been depressed over serious sickness in his family.

Carlyle Harris' Wife Talks Through a St. Louis Medium.

THE PAYS SHE WAS NOT MURPHED BUT KILLED HERSELF.

Sunday Byoning Seance With Interesting Incidents - A Presence Wanted to Talk With One Appears and Is Pernitted to Tell Her Tale-The Medium

The spirit of Helen Potts, the beautiful r whose murder her husband, Carlyle ris, has been sentenced to be executed Sing Sing, N. Y., has, it seems, been hov-ing about St. Louis. At least that is what spiritualists in this city believe, and hat Jules Wallace, a medium who came are recently from Denver and has been here recently from Denver and has been ringing up many of the disquieted sonis of spirit land, declared at a recent seance in a hall at Thirty-fifth street and Franklin avenue, with great dramatic effect. It was a Sunday evening exhibition of the powers of the medium, who has succeeded in bringing about a sort of revival among those who believe that the spirits of the departed manifest themselves through the medium of a chosen few to living friends and relatives. The hall contained quite a large audience, the members of which had and relatives. The hall contained quite a large audience, the members of which had paid & cents admission. Wallace was in fine fettle. He appeared on the raised platform and told his hearers a good many things about himself, what he had done and what he could do. He is an Irishman with a brogue and a glib tongue. Never at a loss for a word he rattles on while the good people who attend gaze at his stalwart figure, all arrayed in plack broadcloth. wart figure, all arrayed in black broadcloth and listen to his tales with open-mouthed as tonishment. When he begins to receive messages from the dead he walks up and down the platform, descends to the main floor and rushes about in a state of great perturbation from one person to the other, grasping the hand of some man or woman and calling out in a stage whisper that whistles through the remotest corners of the room "Annie," "annie," or "Jennie," "Jennie," or some they are "they are the trans the stage of the rook of the stage of shment. When he begins to receive mes "Does any one know a spirit named Annie? Speak quick. Don't keep me in this horrible suspense."

n this horrible suspense."

Then someone says he knows such a spirit, and Wallace soizes his hand, mops the perspiration from his fevered brow and tells what the spirit says. Some nights he hears from twenty or thirty spirits and the ordeal of holding himself in sym-pathy with them leaves him in a prostrated and the ordeal of holding himself in sympathy with them leaves him in a prostrated condition apparently.

On the evening in question, after had delivered a large number of messayes, he started suddenly across the hall and blased "Helen" "Helen" "Helen Potts." She wants to "speak to some one in this audience." A good many people had heard of the murdered girl-wife, and when someone said "I do" Wallace announced in that dreadful whisper. "She says, "My husband is not guilty. I took the morphine. He knew nothing about it. It is true that we did not live happlity together, but he is innocent. Tell them this for me." At the conclusion of this startling revelation Wallace tottered and fell to the floor. He says he fell off the platform and struck his head first upon the boards of the flooring with such force that many people declared that had it been a natural fall bis neck must must certainly have been broken. In this his account varies with with that of several persons who were present. They say that he was down on the floor when the crisis came. However this may be, it is certain that he had a pretty hard fall and that when he "came to" he tore his clothing from his body in a frenzy. Swallow-tailed coat and vest were ruthlessly cust aside and shirt and collar ripped asunder. He was borne to his dressing room helplessly exhausted. The affair created a profound gensation in the hall, It had such an effect upon Mrs. Annie E. Immen, 2010 North Grand avenue, that she thought about it a great deal that night. She is a type-writer employed by Chapin & Co., in the Merchants' Exchange building, and when she was at the office next day she was "impressed" to write the officials at Sing Sing abcut the soul stirring phenomenon she had witnessed. She did write, and the telegraphic dispatches from New York amounce that the letter was one of elved from "Granks" interested in the Hall at the soul stirring phenomenon she had witnessed. She did write, and the telegraphic dispatches from New York amounce that the letter was one of el that the letter was one of a large number of letters re-ceived from "cranks" interested in the Harris case. The medium told his audience that Mrs. Mauss said her husband, who disappeared after her death, had treated her brutally, and caused the idiocy of their son by kicking her just before the child's birth. Wallace was so exhausted, he said, that he could not receive anything more from her. So unless he should get another message the police will have to look the matter up for themselves.

and liquor men who are to quote prices for the "stocking" of a big State saloon. Gov. Tilliman said to a reporter:

"The new dispensary law goes into effect on July 1. After that date there will not be a licensed saloon in the whole State of South Carolina. The wines, whiskies, beer, and in fact all beverages containing alpohol, will be sold in State dispensaries by salaried and bonded officials. Every quince of alcoholic liquor sold within the State will be purchased by the State Commissioner and no liquors of any kind be shipped into the State by any common carrier, except the package bears a certificate signed by the State Commissioner. These packages will be distributed to local dispensaries, one or more of which may be located in any town where a petition for its establishment is signed by a majority of freehold voters. Drug stores are prohibited from selling any spirits except alcohol, which must be purchased from the State. The new law will make a wonderful change in the State, and I think that it will finally be universally adopted as a solution of the liquor problem. For forty years it has been in successful operation in Norway. There are six prohibition counties in South Carolina, where there will be no dispensaries."

Was not Mr. Gladstone in too great a hurry was not Mr. Gladstone in too great a hurry and was he not too impatient to deal with the Irish difficulty? A new era had opened for Ireland with the disestablishment of the Irish Church. Then the agrarian question had been partly settled. Time ought to be allowed for the beneficial operation of these measures; but the Prime Minister said that Ireland was still discontanted and that opportunity and con-Minister said that Ireland was still discontented and that no progress toward conciliation had been made. If such was the case, then the predictions of the Prime Minister regarding the measures he had already promoted for Ireland had proven falacious and threw discredit on similar predictions in regard to the present measure, giving Ireland a separate legislature.

Peru Sories for the American Consul's injury at Hollando.

Washington, April 10.—The Peruvias Government has taken the initiatory steps toward complying with the Cemands of the United States that reparation be made for the outrage committed on one of its consular agencies in Peru. It was not until this morning that the name of the place attacked, which was omitted in the first dispatch from Minister Hicks notifying Secretary Gresham of the affair was made known to the State Department. The information was contained in a cablegram from Minister Hicks. It states that the Consular Agency attacked is at Mollendo, Peru, and in answer to the Gemand for satisfaction made by the Government, the Government of Peru Immediately removed the subprefect of the department in which Hollendo is situated and promised to provide suitable reparation; and furthermore that the Government has expressed its regret for the occurrence. This information is entirely satisfactory to the United States Government. The name of the consular agent at Mollendo, which is omitted from the dispatches received from Minister Hicks, is william R. Griffith. He was appointed from Pennsylvania March 80, 1880. No news has been received by Secretary Gresham concerning the report of the outrage against the United States Consulate in Bolivia.

RAILBOADING IN GERMANY.

Rather a Complicated Way of Starting From the Railway Review.

An offical of the Pittsburg & Lake Eric tailway who recently returned from Europe, referring to railway practice in Germany "The road-beds are about perfect, while "The method of starting trains is altogether unique and peculiar, and will cause American agents and trainmen to smile. The agent is an imposing, dignified and solemn-looking official, attired in elaborate uniform, literally gitt-edged, and he acts as master of ceremonies on imposing occasions. "When the train arrives at the station he is standing bolt upright in an almost military position, andhe is on dress perade. One minute before the train starts he reaches up and taps a gong three times. Then a strange scene takes place, and it would seem that he had pressed a button, for at the last tap the conductor, who has been at the rear car, comes galloping along the entire length of the platform, shouting in German the name of every station the train will stop at.

"When the engine is reached he wheels about, and on his return quickly closes and locks the car door, darts back to the van to his perch on the rear car, whistles thrice on a tin or metal whistle, which is instantly repeated by thebrakeman at the front end and the train starts."

time in my life that I have been knocked down.

"Years ago, when I was just entering politics, I had a dispute with a local celebrity whom we all knew about my home as 'Unele Jimmy.' He was a very powerful fellow, and when I saw his wrath boiling up I knew that I had no chance for my life if he once got after me. He was seated in a chair, and at something I said he became so eoraged that I saw he was about to make a spring in my direction. Like a flash I drew a pistol, covered him with it and exclaimed, 'Uncle Jimmy, if you attempt to rise from that chair I will kill you!'

"Uncle Jimmy concluded not to rise, but swore vengeance. Not long afterwards I was in a cross-roads store talking to some of my constituents, when I heard an exultant voice cry out behind me, 'Lucius, I've got you now!' The next instant I felt his fist on the back of my head and went to the floor in a heap.

"As soon as I could pick myself up we clinched and went down again. He was on top. My friends tried to separate us, but as they pulled and tugged at him he cried out in a whining voice, 'I ain't holding him; he's holding me.'

"The bystanders had wondered why I kept so silent. They now discovered that I had Uncle Jimmy's finger between my teeth, and I would not let go till he was ready to cry quits.''

Does He Drink?.

From the Hartford Courant.

A prominent New York Democrat is re ported as follows: Those who constantly quently as to the forthcoming changes in al the departments of the public service say that the first question which Mr. Cleveland now asks as to any person proposed to him for public place is—does he drink? Mr. Cleveland, I can tell you, has discovered that it is becoming a fashion not to drink; that the men who do not drink are the men who do the greatest things in this world's affairs. He has discovered the value in commercial and in business life of the man who does not drink. He knows that there are some railroad companies who will not employ a man in any capacity who drinks at any time; that no railroad company will permit any of its employes to drink during the hours of service, and that the value of a man who does not drink is each year increasing in this country. He has discovered, I think, that it may be worth while to apply this principle to politics and to discover whether or not a man is not worth as much for public office who does not drink as he is in commercial enterprises."

CARDINAL VASSEARY ATTACKED AND MIS SECRETARY SERIOUSLY HURT.

Give Any Account of Himself-A alloon Party Ducked and Bescued-Children Kidnapped by Arabs at Zansibar to Be Sold Into Slavery.

VIENNA, April 10,-Great excitement has en caused by an attempt to assassinate ardinal Vasseary, the Primate of Hungary. The Cardinal was walking with his secretary when a well-dressed young man rushed upon the Cardinal and made desperate attempts to stab him with a knife. The Cardinal stepped o one side, evading the blows of the assassin, while the secretary received two severe stabs at the hands of the desperate assailant. The would-be murderer was arrested, but re used to give any information as to his motive or identity. Cardinal Vasseary was un-hurt. There seems to be no doubt that the at-tempt to murder the Cardinal was prompted lungary in relation to civil marriage and paptism of children of mixed marriages, in which the Cardinal is looked upon as the leader of the ecclesiastical party. The fact is also recalled that in December last Cardinal Vasseary, who was then Prince Pri-mate, but now promoted to be Cardinal, was attacked by a young man with a revolver. The young man claimed to be the son of a magnate and entered into conversation with the Primate on the subject of the marriage controversy, pretending to support the rimate's views. Suddenly the young duced a revolver and compelled the rimate to give up his ring, gems and amonds. The fellow was probably nothing but a robber. In the present instance the assailant appears to be a fanatic.

DENIES THE WRIT.

Crump Loses His Action Against the School Board.

ONLY PROPER DISCRETIONARY POWER EXERCISED BY SUPT. LONG.

udge Valliant Does Not Pass Upon Whether the Children Are of African Descent-A Suit for Damages for Alleged Slander and Assault Transferred to the County.

Judge Valliant to-day delivered an opinion in the Crump case in which the writ of man-damus on the School Board was denied. After reviewing the facts in the case, statfrom a parochial school because a rumor was started among the children that they were of African descent, and further stating that they were admitted to the Carr Lane School and Hamilton School and subsequently exthe Court without passing on the question of the color or race of the children denies the writ on other grounds. He says that the writ of mandamus is an eqtraordinary writ, and a court must exercise unusual caution in granting it. In the present case it appears that the Superinendent of the Public Schools and the given a certain discretionary power under he law in passing upon matters pertaining to the rules and regulations governing the to the rules and regulations governing the discipline of the schools. In this case the rumor that the Crump children were of African descent had very materially affected the discipline of the schools they attended, inasmuch as parents of other children threatened to withdraw them unless the Crump children were removed. In the exercise of the discretionary power given him the Superintendent acted within proper limits and did what he thought best for the interest of all the children. nterest of all the children. To grant a writ therefore compelling the court to admit the Crump children to the white schools the Court thinks rould be an unnecessary interference on its part and with all due respect to the feelings of the Crump children in the matter he feels that he is compelled to deny the

In the case of Sarah M. Pierce and James E. Pierce against A. B. Carpenter, which was set for trial in Judge Klein's court Wednesday, an amended answer has been filed and a change of venue granted to St.

Louis County. Mrs. Pierce sues Carpenter for $5,000 for an alleged assault and also for $5,000 for an alleged slander. The assault, she alleges, was commit-ted at her home on Aug. 2, 1892, and the slander subsequent thereto.

The count in the petition alleging the slander is to the effect that Carpenter said that Mrs. Pierce was trying to plackmail him and extort money from him. Also that he ntimated that there was something peculiar in the relations existing between Dr. Murphy, who boards with the Pierces, and Mrs. had seen and heard certain things going on nside the house between the pair and that he himself had heard something although he had not seen anything.

Mrs. Pierce alleges that Carpenter threatened to expose all this if she sued him for the assault she claims he committed on her. In his amended answer Carpenter states In his amended answer Carpenter states that he did not make use of the language ascribed to him, but he did say of Mrs. Sarah M. Pierce that she was trying to extort money out of him by threatening to file a suit against him, which had no foundation in fact and that a certain doctor named Murphy, who boarded with the plaintiff and seemed to be on very intimate terms with the plaintiff and her husband, and whom he considered one of the family, could, by reason of his influence with the plaintiffs, induce them by proper advice to cease their further annoyance of this defendant, and that unless said Murphy would do this the whole case would have to be tried in court, and the notoriety resulting therefrom might cause trouble in the family. Mr. Edmond Garesche represents the plaintiffs and McDonaid & Howe the defendant. The deposition of Mrs. Mary E. Smith was taken in the case. She testified that she resided at 142 Sulphur avenue and Mrs. Pierce lived next door. She knew Mr. Carpenter by sight only. On Aug. 2 last she went over to Mrs. Pierce's bouse to get permission to heat an iron on her gasolinestove.

She said she went around and glanced into the house and when she was near the kitchen she raised her eyes and was astonished at, what she saw in the room, she alleges. She avers she saw Mr. Carpenter with his arms around Mrs Pierce.

Mrs. Pirrce, she testified, was trying to release herself from him. He had hold of her around the waist and was pulling her into the room, the witness calaimed. Mrs. Pierce was resisting him and trying to get away from him, as near as witness could see.

"I went away around to my front porch and sat down in the rocking chair because I was so struck at what I had seen, I did not know what to do," the witness ceitified.

When Carpenter left the witness said he never looked up either way. He looked as though he was ashamed of what he was doing, she averred, and had his head down.

On cross-examination she stated that Mrs. Pierce had made no outcry and that she did not think she had any that he did not make the language ascribed to him, but he did say

Writ on Recorder Carlisle

In the election contest case of Pohlman In the election contest case of roniman against Staed for the office of sheriff, Judge Harrison this morning granted the writ prayed for on Recorder Carlisle. In his oral opinion he says: "The contestant has filed an application for a writ to the Recorder of Voters of this city commanding him to open, count, compare with the list of voters and examine the ballots in his office which were cast at the election held in the city of St. Louis on Tuesday, Nov. 8,1892, and to certify the result of such count, comparison and examination so far as the same relates to the office of the sheriff of the city of St. Louis to this court.

"The court has reached the conclusion that secs. 4721 to 4727 inclusive are applicable to the city of St. Louis, and may be invoked in a case of a contested election for the office of Sheriff of said city. The court further concludes that as the Recorder of Voters is the officer of said city corresponding to clerks of county courts in the counties of the State, the sections of the State above noted are applicable to him.

"The writ will therefore issue in this case to the Recorder of Voters under and to be proceeded with in accordance with said secs. 4721 to 4725." against Staed for the office of sheriff, Judge

In the case of Henry Newman'st al. against Julius Levy et al., a final judgment was rendered this morning in Judge Harrison's court against the defendant for $1,185.49.

A special jury was empanied to-day in Judge Valilant's court to try the case of George W. Dudley against the Missouri Railroad Co. and the St. Louis Transfer Co. for $25,000 damages for alleged personal injuries.

The will of Luke A. Malloy was admitted to probate to-day. He leaves $1 each to his two aunts and two uncles and states that having no other relatives living, he leaves the balance of his estate to his partner in business, Bartholomet Nohally, who he appoints executor.

MAYOR WALBRIDGE TAKES CHARGE. The Mayor's First Act Shows His Pride in

Only one of the newly elected officers took old to-day, but he was one of the bigges in the whole assortment.

At 10 o'clock this morning Mayor Walbridge came down to the City Hall looking smilingly through his highly polished eyeglasses. Secretary Saunders ly polished eyeglasses. Secretary Saunders was already at his post and had cleaned out his deak, formerly used by Jim Brennan, but all the rubber stamps and other fine remitting paraphernalia had been carely carted off.

Mayor Walbridge, as soon as he arrived, had the door into the inner office thrown wide open, and the screen, which was usually right in front of it, was moved aside. Everybody and anybody who wanted to could go in to see his honor. Julius Wurtzburger was the first caller and he was followed immediately by a Post-Disparch reporter. Mr. Walbridge said he felt very well as he pushed a box of clears over to the reporter. "Take a smoke, please, but don't try to smoke me out."

"Ex Mayor Noonan was here of course this morning to hand over the office to you and give you the combination of the safe?"

"No, he was not, I have not seen Mr. Noonan since my inauguration, and had no idea that he was expected." "Ex-Mayor Noonan was here of course this morning to hand over the office to you and give you the combination of the safe?"

"No, he was not, I have not seen Mr. Noonan since my inauguration, and had no idea that he was expected."

"What do you think, Mr. Mayor, of the conduct of Mr. Albright in the House of Delegates?"

"I have not read over the accounts very carefully, but I am at a loss to see what he has gained by acting as he has. He may know, but I don't see it."

The first official act of the Mayor to-day was to indite the following letter and instruct Secretary Saunders to send it around:

Those who will be asked to attend are: E. O. Stanard, C. H. Sampson, Seth W. Cobb, Richard Barthold, S. M. Kennard, Frank Galennie, W. H. Thompson, E. E. Rowser, Charles Parsons, Geo. E. Leighton, W. T. Anderson, J. B. Case, E. C. Simmons, Fred Mann, H. C. Townsend, Goodman King, Rolla Wells, James Cox, Ellis Wainwright, R. E. M. Bain, Chas. Nagel.

The other elected officers cannot take possession until after the 18th of this month, when their bonds will go in for approval before the new Council, and if all is as it should be they can take charge of their various offices on the 19th. Of course, Ziegenhein and Brown go right along as they did before and have only to get a new bond and have it approved by the Council. In the offices of the Secretary of the Council and Clerk of the House things went on as smoothly as could be desired.

Drowned at the Landing.

While the steamer City of Memphis was landing at the foot of Vine street about noon to-day, Wm. Lambert, a passenger, advanced too near the edge on the outer rail and losing his balance fell headlong into the water. He was intoxicated at the time and made no effort to save himself. He sank immediately before help could be brought.

Lambert was a resident of Cape Girardeau, Mo., and leaves a wife and seven children. Search was immediately instituted for the body, but so far without success.

A Railroad Sues for Trespass.

From the Bangor Commercial, A lawsuit entirely out of the common course is reported in Cumberland County, being one brought by the Maine Central Railroad Co. against a Windham man for trespons. During the recent bliszard this man had occasion to drive from Mallison Falls to Windham village. The highway was blocked and hard to travel, so when he reached the railway crossing near Mailison Falls, seeing that the Maine Central snow plows had made a fine track, he turned his horse in that direction and drove up the path of the railroad to his destination. This was very dangerous business, and the man submitted the company as well as himself to big risk. The suit is for $500, and doubtless is intended as an object lesson. being one brought by the Maine Central Rail

LIONS CLIMBING TREES.

An Animal That Succeeded in Getting Up, but Tumbled Down. Animals sometimes do very peculiar things. For instance, there are fishes of a certain kind that go out walking once a year. They do not walk as fast nor as gracefully as some other animals do, but they contrive to get along after a fashion.

Their object is to get from one body of

Their object is to get from one body of water, where the food is no longer good, to another where they may have plenty to eat. Of course, if there is no connecting stream between these bodies of water, the fishes must travel over the ground.

Lions have a queer way of climbing into trees at times. Usually lions are content to stay on the ground, where they are strong enough to get the best of any enemy that may attack them. A gentleman while hunting in Africa some time ago was pointing his gun just about to shoot a deer, when he was startled by hearing a crashing and smeshing of branches behind him. Turning around he saw a big lion standing at the foot of a tree, from which he had just jumped.

He immediately bounded away, but the hunter, who had recovered from his surprise at seeing a lion suddenly drop out of the sky, as it were, almed and fred. The builet struck the beast in the fiank. He turned around growling and came back a few yards and then started away again. The hunter shot once more and the builet struck the lion in the forehead, killing him instantly.

The tree was of a busy kind, with a sloping trunk, and it is probable that in trying to climb down the lion lost his hold and fell with a crash to the ground.

But what do you suppose he climbed up the tree for?

sight?" Snooks had nervously asked.
"No; he'll go for us first, and keep you for dessert," Scott had encouragingly replied.
The little man became confident as time went on and nothing appeared. They had come to a great piece of failen timber. The side branches stretched upward and all about at right angles to the huge trunk. Snooks mounted one to get jonto the main stem as it lay prostrate. He was going to swing himself down on the other side, when, lo! in front of him arose a vast brown pilar, as it seemed to him, with two big arms, and, with a faint cry. Snooks dropped back among the branches on the side of the tree remote from the bear—for bear it was and a huge one—and crouched, breathless, his among the branches on the side of the tree remote from the bear—for bear it was and a huge one—and crouched, breathless, his heart thumping in his throat and his limbs perfectly nerveless. The bear had had only a brief vision of the intruder and apparently concluded Snooks must be a bad dream, for he grunted, lowered himself and took no further notice as far as Snooks could learn, for he heard nothing, saw nothing and felt only an intense desire to shout, but could not. But the bear thought it might be worth while to see what had become of his bad dream, which had left a suspicious odor behind it. So he slowly raised himself again, and got upon the fallen tree trunk. This made him visible to Tom, who raised his rifle and fired. With a noise something between a hiss and a grunt and a groan, the bear imped down almost on top of poor Snooks, but did not touch him, and "went for" Tom "at sight." Tom tried to shin up a small tree, leaving the rifle below; for he had no time, he thought, to sling it around him. But the bear was too quick for him and clawed his legging, T.'s foot escaping claws and teeth. At this instant the hero of the day, in the shape of Scott, came up, fired, and the bear fell, tearing down Tom. Another moment and he had given him a nasty munch in the side, but again his jacket saved Tom; Scott fired once more, and followed the shot up by driving a long knife into the grizzly's heart. It was most gallantly and cleverly wone shave, and, as Snooks observed, "might have been much worse had not he (Snooks) insisted on their keeping together."

He Showed a Fighting Hungarian That from the Butse Bystander.

Judge Colman may not be a very large man, but when it comes to upholding the supreme power of the law he looks as large as an elephant. At least so thinks Mr. Reski. Reski is a Hungarian iwho is reported to have killed a man or two before coming to America, and before coming to America, and after spending eleven years in the penal institutions of Hungary left his native country for his country's good. Mr. Reski's esthetic taste not being suited by the cooking of his partner, Mr. Yago, he attempted to make a little Hungaran angel of him, via the Winchester route. A warrant was sworn out, but the officers failed to find Mr. Reski. Tuesday morning Vago informed Judge Colman that Reski was gambling in the Combination. No officer being present at the time, the Judge concluded to make the arrest himself. Vago went out with him and pointed out the man wanted and then skipped out. The Judge called Reski and told him he had a warrant for his arrest. In response the Hungarian pulled out his pistol, but before he icculd use it he received a "habeas corpus" under the ear, was disarmed and marched up to court in double-quick time.

As they were going up the stairs which lead to the court Reski rulled another pistol a 44.

ear, was disarmed and marched up to court in double-quick time.

As they were going up the stairs which lead to the court Reski pulled another pistol, a 44-Coit's, and saying, "Me kill you now," attempted to shoot, but again the Judge was too quick for him, and knocking him down took the second gun away from him, and besides giving him a good thumping, read him a lecture on the evils of endeavoring to obstruct the course of justice; after which he was escorted to the court-room, his case set for trial and then marched down to the City Jail, Upon being searched a belt of cartridges and an eight-inch dirk were taken from him, in addition to the two pistols secured by the Judge. If any State in the Union has a nervier law-giver than Judge Colman we would like to hear from it. The Judge can be found in his office at all hours of the day or night.

NEITHER the President nor his Cabinet officers have read the decisions of Judges Ricks and Taft. This very important duty has not been neglected because of indifference, but because their whole time is occupied with office-seekers. THE Reading combine is still under the protection of the courts notwithstanding the resignation of Mr. McLeod. Here is an opportunity for Mr. Olney of Boston, to show his quality as a lawyer; and the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives might look into the kind of protection afforded by Federal Courts to unlawful undertakings.

THE proposals made by a number of capitalists to accept the New York underground franchise on terms favorable to the city indicates that the Manhattan's bluff is not going to work. It will generally be found if city governments make a bold stand against franchise grabbers that the abundance of capital seeking investment will enable them to get good terms.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL BISSELL is indignant over the outcry made against his assistant, Maxwell, for the activity of the latter in stirring up the fourth-class postmasters. His explanation seems to be satisfactory, and he acquits the department of spoilsmongering, but as only he can impart all the facts he should see that ities within the national boundaries, is they are all published, so that there will be no misunderstanding.

SENATOR GORMAN, it is said, is getting few "favors," and is therefore out of humor with the President. The humor of Senators and Representatives is easily disturbed by any inequality in the distribution of the "offisses." They seem to think more of their position as officebrokers than they do of their reputation as statesmen and legislators. It is one of the many curiosities of politics.

THE railroad strike threatened by the Atchison men seems to be an unwise move from every point of view. They are said to be getting good wages now which, of course, is no reason why they should not ing the claims of innocent investors, but get better if they can, but their example is likely to have a disturbing effect upon the transportation business at a time when the interests of the general public require the utmost harmony. Strikes seldom succeed and a strike during the World's Fair will not be likely to win popular favor without which success is impossible.

IT should only be necessary to call at tention to the appeal for funds to furnish the St. Louis rooms in the Missouri State building at the World's Fair to secure liberal response from citizens. The better furnished they are the better will be the impression of the taste, prosperity and liberality of the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. It is from these rooms that St. Louisans will obtain valuable information and aid in visiting the World's Fair, and they will be headquarters where St. Louisans will meet their friends. The rooms embrace an office for the St. Louis bureau of information, a reading room stocked with home literature and a press room. There should be no lack of funds for handsom and comfortable furnishings.

Gov. STONE's speech at the banquet of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation sounds like a reproach and a warning to the blind sectionalism of the Eastern States, but it is not likely that the monopolists who thrive by a system which levies excessive tribute upon the producing States will understand or heed it. Gov Stone thinks that the one-sided policy which impoverishes Western farmers to enrich a few capitalists in the East "will be abandoned either as a matter of consent or compulsion." There is no doubt about this, but it will be under compulsion, not by consent, for there is none blinder or more inaccessible to reason than the man who makes money by unjust means sanc when the people of the West feel assured of their power they will take care to run the Government with more regard for Western ideas and interests than has hitherto been visible in its policy.

PUBLIC VS. PRIVATE SALE.

Two of the last official acts of Mayo Noonan constituted a fair illustration of the guiding principle of municipal legislation which has prevailed for a long tim past, and especially during the past four years. One was the vetoing of the Forest Park Belt Railway bill and the other was the approval of the People' Railway extension bill.

The Forest Park Belt Railway bill pro vided for the sale of the franchise to the It was designed solely as a measure of publie improvement to afford the people ac mitting more railroads to enter and cut up the park. All the compensation paid for the franchise was to go to the city.

The People's Railway bill gave a twentyyear extension of franchise, and instead of securing additional compensation for the city in exchange for the grant it cut down the return the city gets for the pres ent franchise of the road.

Whether the objections urged against the Forest Park Belt bill are sound or not, we venture to say that if it had given away a franchise to any one of the clique of franchise grabbers who have fattened off the city, it would have gone through. But being a bill for the benefit of the city it failed, although a host of bills for the benefit of rich corporations and boodle lobbyists and legislators succeeded. This will be the rule until citizens demand the adoption of the franchise-selling principle.

PREE TRADE BETWEEN THE STATES. In his great speech in New York Saturday night Gov. Stone applied the doctrines of unrestricted trade to the transportation and money questions in a lucid and masterly fashion.

Railways considered as public functionaries are designed only to circulate commodities. The lower the price charged for this service the more prosperous will be the people who produce the wealth of the country. And a low price for transportation is always possible if the cost is low, for the right to charge all the traffic will bear is not admissible where monopoly privileges are given to those who perform a public service. They are entitled to a fair profit on the actual cost of the plant, but not a dollar on fictitious values represented in over-issues of stock and bonds

The cheap transportation demanded by Gov. Stone is based upon the cost of service and is not possible on any other equitable basis. Free trade between the States, the unrestricted circulation of commodguaranteed by the Constitution, but the guarantee is nullified whenever a rathroad company levies tolls for the purpose of paying dividends on watered stock. The exaction of such dividends differs nowise from the levies on imports from abroad for the purpose of increasing the profits of privileged producers; it is a tribute imposed by one possessing an "unearned advantage."

To procure free trade between the States trade free from arbitrary exaction, is the undertaken. It is a task which cannot be accomplished in a day, nor a year, for it must be done without disturbing business relations and without wantonly disregardit will be brought about, and Gov. Stone's speech may be taken as a warning to the nonopolists not to interpose any factious or irrational obstacle for the purpose of defeating the matured will of the people.

THE passage of the Newberry railway rate bill in Nebraska causes much headshaking and long faces among the managers and great uneasiness is reported among employes who fear a cut in wages. The average reduction is 20 per cent which is claimed to be ruinous. There may be something in this, but the railway companies must prove that the old rates were not extortionate before they can get the people of Nebraska to swallow their stories of prospective disaster. The whole trouble in Nebraska and elsewhere is that the companies are trying to pay dividends on watered stock, every dollar of which is so much robbery. Railways should be allowed the usual rate of interest and profit with, in some cases, an added return to cover extraordinary risk. All over this should go to the people by whose sufferance the corporations exist, in the form of cheap transportation and in tax payments up to the full value of the franchise.

It is remarkable that the ghost of Helen Potts should have come to St. Louis for an opportunity to reveal the fact that her husband, Dr. Carlyle Harris, had not poisoned mediums ought to have given poor Helen chance nearer home. Possibly, however, St. Louis is a favorite spot with the inhabi who are still on earth.

Might as Well Be in Session

New York Evening Post.

The Democratic Congressmen appear to be all in Washington, extra session or not. Al the dispatches report them as haunting "the departments," besieging the White House and as organizing State "patronage boards." The latter process has been attended with the usual amount of friction, and bad blood has been engendered and naughty names given in more than one case; but still it goes on, and we observe among those engaged in it night and day several Congressmen who thought it would be simply outrageous to have an extra session and keep them in Washington away from urgent private busi-handed in those these who intro not have were to pay—he started in business for himself.

Being shrewd, and possessing a far-seeing mind, he concluded that the land on the Island of Manhattan in the course of time would become very valuable, and he therefore invested his surplus in dirt.

The Astors always buy land just ahead of the population, but they never sell. They give a lease for twenty-one years, with the privilege of renewal. The conditions of the lease are such that if not renewed the improvements go to the landlord. The Astors appoint one referse, the tenant another, and the two a third, and these three men determine the value of the improvements and the tenant is bound to accept their decision.

The Astors always buy cheap and charge all the traffic will bear.

About four years ago a large number of leases expired on lots 25 to 100 feet, and on which the rent had been $850 and $450 respectively per lot and year.

The rent was promptly raised to $1,350 and $1,450 per lot.

The increase in rent was caused, not by

The increase in rent was caused, not by inything the Astors had ever done on the lots, but by competition for the use of them, no ther words, by the increase and pressures the second state.

of population.

The value of the lots was created by the community and therefore rightfully belongs to the community, and it may well be asked by what right the Astors appropriate public property for private use. The fortune of the Astors is about $150,000,000 and consists in vacant lots held out of use until the country "gets ripe," in lots leased to late-comers, and in lots with improvements. The houses are mostly cheap tenements, each occupied by from ten to twenty families; houses that, while comparatively taxed low, rent at high rates.

It would be unjust to blame the Astors for possessing immense fortunes. The fault is our own, and until the community decides to take what belongs to the community the Astors are as much entitled to the unearned Astors are as much entitled to the unearned increment as anyone else.

To the tenants it makes no difference whether Mr. Astor lives in London as a loyal subject of Queen Victoria, or whether he fills his pockets at their expense in New York.

In either case the gentleman gets his $10,000,000 income per year from the free and independent American citizens who, in their ignorance of 'political economy, cheerfully allow Mr. Astor to act in the capacity of private taxgutherer, and then pay the taxes over again.

This company has for three months been remodeling and rearranging the building at 814 and 818 North Broadway before opening up their business in 8t. Louis. Their manager, Mr. A. E. Sharp, was formerly buyer for the largest furniture house in Chicago. The head salesman is Mr. W. P. Grant, formerly buyer in the hostery department of Penny & Gentles, hence well known to many 8t. Louisans. The new firm opens its business under most auspicious circumstances. Their corgoration has large stores in Cleveland, Kansas City and Chicago, and buying in unusually large quantities, are enabled to sell at the very lowest prices. Their business will be run on Broadway principles, viz.: Sales of great quantities of goods on a narrow margin. So low will be their prices and so excellent their service that their name will soon become a household word.

their prices and so excellent their service that their name will soon become a house-hold word.

Their decorations for to-day's opening were all that could be desired. Tropical plants and designs of natural flowers are tastefully placed to attract and please the eye, without palling by a superabundance. Brilliant electric lights are clustered through the house and politic and gentlemanly salesmen are alert to minister to the visitor's comfort. Souvening of four different designs will serve to recall the pleasure of the visit and to remind the purchasing public where they will always find this business house. Not only is the house brilliant with electric lights, but the elevators are also operated by electricity.

The immense stock of goods consists of furniture, carpets, stoves, mirrors, pictures, curtains, crockery and in fact of everything that is needed in house-furnishing. All these articles will be sold at prices to desty competition for cash or on credit to such worthy people as desire it. As St. Louis always welcomes investors and sound business enterprise it is impossible for this firm not to success. Situated near the larger retail stores on the start. The location which the house has selected is also favorable to success. The fact that so early in their career here they do not undertake to follow, but to lead, infusing new blood, new methods and new energies into the hosse furnishing business, is a guarantee of their future triumphs. Being an entirely new house with a new stock, patrons will not have imposed upon them any old furniture, carpets, curtains, or any other goods that have been carried in stock several seasons, and which are serviceable only as curios. No, their goods are fresh and up to the style, whether of the more expensive lines which the wealther only can buy or whether of the goods purchased by the workingman. All is new, neat, clean, stylish, and very much cheaper than competitors can possibly furnish any such grades of stock. All people who cas visit this beautiful business house should not miss the opportunity.

THE WEEK'S AMUSEMENTS.

Plays Presented at the Various Theaters-W. W. Walter's Benefit. At the Grand Opera-house Archibald Clavering Gunter's play, "My Official Wife," with Minnie Seligman Cutting in the star role, was presented last night. That the play is a strong one cannot be said. There are many strong points in the book upon which dramatic version. The play is decidedly senentional, and not at all worthy of the abilities of Minnie Seligman Cutting. Her acting in the part of the Nihilist conspirator who is ready to sacrifice everything to her cause was full of force and spirit, the scenes with Col. Lenox, the scenes with Col. Lenox, whom she has cajoled into gaining admission for her into Russia by representing her at his wife, being particularly well done. In fact nearly all the interest of the bay is that given it by her admirable handling of the part. R. Paton Gibbs took the part of Baron Friedrich, the prefect of the st. Petersburg police, and handled it with much skill and niesse. William F. Owen was by no means as successful in the character of Arthur Bainbridge Lenox, which he apparently considered as a low comedy role. If any Americans of his type are wandering about the Continent, it is to be hoped for the credit of the country that they will be apprehended by the Russian police and consigned to the most inaccessible region of Siberia. Robert L. Cutting made a fine appearance as Sacha Weletsky, and if he would rid himself of a self-conscious smirk that his suits his imposing presence and manly physique would be a very pleasing actor. The remainder of the company had little to do.

At the Hagan the attraction this week is Hallen and Hart in "The Idea." The play which is made up of a number of specialties, has been much improved since it was last seen here. Both Hallen and Hart are exceedingly amusing and Mollis Fuller manifested rare abilities as a dancer. There are a number of bright, catchy songs, and the performance throughout is an enjoyable one.

At Pope's Erra Kendall appeared in "A Pair of Rids." This is a farce-comedy of the most pronounced kind, and is full of roaring fun. As the countryman who gets into all kinds of trouble, finally winding in jail, Mr. Kendall set the house in roars of laughter. Carlotta's dancing was very good, as was that of John Magee, and the character sketches of Kate Quinten proved very popular.

Relily & Wood's big show opened a week's gagement at the Standard last night, as company has been decidedly strengthed since its last appearance here, containing such well-known performers as Gussle sison, Florence Devere, John J. Burke, Patellly, Charles Boraw and Mile. Vita. The triesque, "Hades and the 400," was parcularly well done.

At Havlin's "Hands Across the Sea" was resented by a sirong company. This melo-cama has long been popular and when pre-inted by such actors as Henry Pierson, ark Charles, W. Walth, G. W. Porsons and arlotta Walton proved to be as popular as

To-night Bronson Howard's new play, 'Aristocracy,'' will be presented at the lympic. This play has won the highest traises in the East, and by many is regarded in Howard's best production. Theater-cers are awaiting its appearance with un-better. His many friends will undoubtedly make the benefit a great success.

On Monday next Treasurer Mark Priest of the Hagan will take his annual benefit. Mr. Priest has a host of acquaintances, and is popular wherever he is known. "Mr. Potter of Texas" will be the attraction.

Mrs. Mauss Not Poisoned.

The inquest on the body of Mrs. Lottie Mauss was concluded by Coroner Frank yesterday. Mrs. Mauss died at her home, No. 8950 Chouteau avenue, on Tuesday last under circumstances that led to the suspicion that her death was due to poison. No traces of poison were discovered, and a verdict of death from hatural causes was readered. William L. Mauss, her husband, the jeweler who disappeared, has had a suit for $34.00 filed against him by William B. Russell.

A PIECE OF THE SUN.

A Fairy Story Told by a Kansas Correspendent on a Dull Sunday. OSAWATOMIE, Kan., April 10 .- An aerolite fell here at 20'clock p. m. yesterday, striking the John Brown monument, crashing through the dome and nave and burying itcovered, as it was heated almost to melting, It is of a dark slate color, irregular in shape and weighs 14 pounds 4 ounces. Prof. Joplin of the State Mineralogical School and United States Assayer saw the meteor strike and made an analysis of some portions of it. About one-fourth of the mass is a metal unknown to the professor, but which he has every reason for believing to be helium, the unknown metal seen in the spectrum of the sun, and which has never been found on earth. This metal has a specific gravity nearly four times greater than that of gold, is white in appearance and is both maileable and ductile, though very tough. Prof. Joplin's theory is that the meteor was thrown off the sun. It is of a dark slate color, irregular in shape

FR. SHIELDS' NEW PARISH. A Committee From St. Teresa's Succeeds in Having It Curtailed. The members of St. Teresa's parish are very indignant at the attempted inroad of Rev. Fr. Joseph T. Shields, who is organizing a new parish of St. Matthew the Ing a new parish of St. Matthew the Apostle, in the northwestern part of the city St. Teresa's Church is situated on Grand avenue near North Market street, and the parish extends to the Natural Bridge road on the North, to Jefferson avenue on the East, to Easton avenue on the South and to Grand avenue on the South and to Grand avenue on the South and to Grand avenue on the West. Fr. Shields' parish was to include the territory between Natural Bridge road and Easton avenue, Vandeventer avenue and Goode avenue. As this is a very promising and extensive area the members of St. Teresa's Church objected strenuously. They admitted the need of a church for the members of St. Teresa's who live in the northwestern part of the parish, but they denied the right of Fr. Shields to come so near the church as he did. There is a debt of $7,000 on St. Teresa's Church which Fr. Connolly, the pastor, intends to remove before next June. He also has hopes of building a new church. These burdens would fall heavily on the remnant of the parish if Fr. Shields pre-empted the part west of Vandeventer avenue. A committee, composed of Messrs. Grant, Maguire and Flood of St. Teresa's Church, called on Archbishop Kenrick yesterday and explained to him the situation. The Archbishop listened to their plea and promised to remove the eastern boundary of St. Matthew's parish back to Sarah street from Vandeventer avenue. The committee were satisfied and retired. self in the earth. It was with difficulty re- in the northwestern part of the city

SCHOOL BOYS ELECTIONEERING.

See advt. on last page.

They Merely Handed Out Circulars Advocating Making the Library Free. The fact that a number of High School boys were seen at the polls during the recent election having occa-sioned some comment, a reporter made an investigation this morning. Mr. Louis Soldan, Principal of the High School, Louis Soldan, Principal of the High School, when seen, said that at a recent meeting of the various public school principals, called by Supt. Long, it was decided to send some of the larger boys from the schools to the pools to hand out dodgers in the interest of the free library scheme. There was nothing partisan in the movement whatever. Mr. Soldan says that on the day before the election special precincts were assigned by the Superintendent or Mr. Crunden to each school. By sending his boys out he merely obeyed the order from the Superintendent.

der way and the number of houses and flats for rent. This survey was made again in August, 1892, and has just been made a third time with striking results. The entire frontage on the eighteen east and west avenues in this district is 189,840 feet. At the last survey made on March 15, 1893, but 77,124 front feet, or less than one-half the area, was vacant. On August, 1892, there were 1,942 buildings on these eighteen avenues. On March 15, 1893, there were 2,276 buildings, an increase of 834 buildings, or at the rate of 475 new buildings per year. The average front occupied by each building is 36 feet, so that at the present rate over 17,000 front feet of ground is being built up each year, and in about four years more no vacant lots will be found in that district. On Dec. 15, 1891, there were 116 new buildings under way, on Aug. 16, 1892, 240, and on March 15, 1893, 299. Since March 15, 1893, permits have been taken out for thirty-eight more buildings. But more astonishing still is the fact that while on Dec. 15, 1891, there were for rent in the district 38 houses or flats, on March 15, 1893, the number had decreased to 58, although some 470 buildings. more astonishing still is the fact that while on Dec. 15, 1891, there were for rent in the district 28 houses or flats, on March 15, 1893, the number had decreased to 58, although some 470 buildings had been erected meanwhile and in this 58 are included a number of new buildings hardly finished. On the seven streets south of Olive having 312 houses, only five are for rent, and on Washington. Delmar, Morgan and Bell avenue, out of 759 buildings, of which 145 have been completed within a year, only twelve are for rent. In this entire district about a mile and a haif wide and two miles long, there is only room for 11,000 more persons. No other western city can show such a record of rapid building. The astonishingly slight and at the same time decreasing number of buildings for rent shows that even yet the building movement has not kept pace with the increase in Bopulation.

A VANDEVENTER PLACE HOME.

The week's real estate business was opened to day by the sale of the elegant residence of John C. Orrick in Vandeventer place to Wm. H. Lee, President of the Merchants' National Bank. The house is a large two-story brick structure very complete. It is situated on 100 feet of ground on the north side of Vandeventer place, between the elegant homes of Dan Catilin and John R. Lionberger. The price paid for the property was equal to 38,000, though the consideration named in the deed is $36,500. Mr. Lee will make the his home.

To the St. Louis Baptist Ministers' Conference:

BRETHREN-Your committee to whom was intrusted the investigation of the question of Government courtesies recently extended to representatives of the Roman Catholic Church, submit the following report:

Pursuant to instructions the committee transmitted to President Benjamin Harrison the resolution passed by the conference in expressing your protest against the action of the Treasury Department in authorising the use of a revenue cutter for the transportation of Satolli, the papal delegate, and other representatives of the Roman hierarchy, from an incoming steamship to the City of New York. The communication transmitted from these headquarters, on Jan. 25, 1893, was acknowledged in the following letter:

Executive Mansion.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1, 1893.

Very truly yours,

E. H. HALFOED.
Private Secretary.

On Feb. 8 the communication appeared in a special dispatch to the Globe-Democrat, and the following comment was made in said paper: "With reference to the treatment given Mgr. Satolli the Treasury officials say: "It is the common courtesy that is accorded all distinguished foreigners upon their arrival here, and nothing more." This protest of the Missouri Baptists is the only one that has been received. "Meantime the Administration of Mr. Harrison expired, and Mr. Cleveland, having been inaugurated President of the United States, appointed Hon. John G. Carlisle Secretary of the Treasury, vice Secretary Foster, resigned.

Your committee therefore addressed the new Secretary, asking if the records of his office showed that like courtesies as shown the Papal delegate had been extended to representatives of other religious denominations. The following reply was made:

In addition to the question involved in the inquiry of your examilities, the matter of special privilege extended to representatives of the Catholic Church at the National Capital, challenges your attention. Nearly coetaneous with the scene enacted in New York, by which the Papal delegate and his compers were welcomed to our hospitable shores, another scene was presented to the astonished gaze of our people at the apitol in Washington. "The doors of the Capitol of this Protestant nation were thrown open, and the Catholic Church was permitted to take charge of the funeral service of Senator Barbour of Virginia, notwithstanding Barbour was not a member of that church, and all services of this character had been conducted hitherto by the chapisin of the Senate or House, to which the deceased Congressman had belonged. That strangs scene was re-enacted on the death of Senator Kenna. The full ceremony of the Catholic church, sprinkling of water, offering of incense, and burning of candles, conducted in our National Capitol."

The bishops will meet at Louisville, Ky., April 27. and go thence to Kansas City. The Methodist ministers discussed city church extension apropos of to-night's city church extension meeting at Union Church. Each cnurch will be represented by its paster and lay delegate. Bishop Bowman, Presiding Elder Stewart and Revs. Masden, Marlatt, Miller, Lenig and Young took part in to-day's discussion.

The committee appointed by the Christian ministers' meeting a few weeks ago to report upon the merits of the parish system, advocated by Rev. Dr. Bartholemew, submitted their views to-day. Revs. Messrs. Kellar and Hopkins made a majority report in which they recommended that a general treasurer for all the Christian churches in the city be appointed, and that the City Mission Board have control of the finances of all the churches and regulate the salaries of the pastors. Dr. Bartholomew, pastor of Mt. Cabanne Christian Church, made a minority report. He suggested that the pastors should exhort the members to go to the churches nearest to them. On motion of Rev. Dr. Garrison both reports were laid on the table.

In the United Slates Circuit Court of Appeals the case of the Lawson Cash Railway Co., against Herman Godehard and Oilie Stevenson was filed. The plaintiff claims that it is the owner of a patent for transferring cash and packages from one part of a store to another by means of a trolley railway system, and that the defendants had infringed this patent, for which such damages as the court might assess were asked. The defendant claimed that the letters patent were improperly issued. In the lower court the bill of the compialmant was dismissed. Northern Pacific Railroad, leave was granted inquest was held at Bridgeton, St. Loui this morning over the remains o Henry Groene of this city, who was killed yesterday afternoon about 10'clock, a mile east of Bridgeton, by a Wabash freight train. east of Bridgeton, by a Wabash freight train.

A ST. LOUISAN KILLED.

Henry Groene Meets With a Fatal Acci-

Groene resided at No. 1414 North Twelfth street and was an active member of St.
Joseph's Catholic Church. After services yesterday morning he started out with an acquaintance named Segher for a walk. They went as far as Bridgeton and started back along the railroad track intending to reach the city by 5 o'clock in order to attend a meeting of a church society. As they were walking across a trestle they saw a train coming toward them. The men were too far over to return in safety, and they, therefore, hasened to get over in time to avoid the train. Sesher reached the end of the trestle just as the engine reached it, but Groene, who was slower than Begher, was struck by the engine and thrown in the air to the other side of the trestle. His head was crushed and he died almost instantly. The verdict of the coroner's jury was death by accident. Bromschwig & Hussman, undertakers at Eleventh and Biddle streets, were ordered to bring Groene's body to St. Louis, and Mr. Hussman set out for Bridgeton with his dead wagon to-day, as the railroad company refused to transport the remains to St. Louis.

Fractured a Boy's Skull. Edward Jeffrey, 15 years old, was struck in the head with a brick, thrown by James Goff, yesterday afternoon in the rear of a store kept by Goff's brother at Fourteenth and kept by Goff's brother at Fourteenth and Spruce streets. The lad and a companion had taken refuge from the rain in a wagon belonging to Goff's brother, when Goff saw them. He was drunk and the boys becoming frightened, ran away. But Goff picked up a brick and struck Jeffrey on the back of the head. Dispensary Physician Hough said that the boy's skull was crushed, and wanted to send him to the City Hospital, but Jeffrey insisted on being taken home to his parents at 1429 Morgan street. Goff was arrested last night.

NEW YORK CITY, April 10 .- About fifty houses in Carroll, on the border of Croton Lake, will go down in the war for the purification of the city's water supply. The house are of a superior class, and have been oc-cupied by their tenants for years. They have been condemned because they pollute the water. The old school-house must go too, but the Drew Seminary will remain. At Brewsters, a village of 800 houses, a number of dwellings have been ordered removed, and others on the east branch of the Croton are doomed.

The Normantie's Cowardice. NEW YORK, April 10 .- The Thingvilla steamship Hecla arrived yesterday after a most eventful voyage. It is said that the America, which took the Danish ship in tow, will be entitled to $50,000. The captain of the Normandie, which sighted the Hecla, claims that he offered to take the passengers off, while Capt. Thomsen of the Hecla denies that any such offer was made.

Unjust Taxation.

It is unjust to tax the stomach with burthens that it cannot bear. Many silly ple thus tyrannize that faithful servitor erve. Dyspepsia is usually the child of gasronomic folly, but whether this or the natural associate of inherent feebleness from childhood, it is surely and pleasantly remedi-able with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the able with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest and most highly sanctioned gastric tonic in existence. As a result of the tone imparted to the stomach, and the increased activity of its digestive and assimilative action, insured by the persistent use of this benign invigorant, general stambla is augmented, the nerves strengthened and tranquilised, and a tendency to insomnia and hypochondriasis defeated. Biliousness, chilis and fever, rheumatism and kidney troubles are conquered by this admirable medicine.

They also relieve Dis-tress from Dyspepsia, In-digestion, and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Diszipess. Names.

ILLUME AND JUDGE MORROW LOOKING VERY FORMIDABLE.

Col. North's Horses-Phil Dwyer's Two-Year-Olds - Tammany and His Highness - Clashing of Western Bacing Dates-The Bing-Base Ball-Sporting News of All Borts.

NEW YORK, April 10 .- "Push Forward" was the word at every training course in this vicinity during the past week until last Thursday, when bad weather interfered. Saturday the weather clerk took pity on the impatient and anxious trainers and turned off the wet weather crank. Yesterday owners, bookmakers, touts and jockeys turned out to the training quarters to watch the early spins, and the sail birds and stopwatches were omnipresent. There was away with enough to talk about till the real racing begins.

The news that Elizabeth would open shortly was the incentive to trainers, and, as a matter of fact, horses at Brooklyn were far more forward than at any other point. They beautiful sea breezes, and as no less an authority than Phil Dwyer expressed it, "were fat outside, perhaps, but there was no fat inside, being ready for good, stout work."

W. C. Daly's phalanx came down from Hartford and set a clipping pace for the residents to emulate. Lizzie and Lepanto are probably the most forward of his lot. Long-street is by no means the cripple he has been represented. He is better off to-day than a year ago. Then he wore heavy boots and red bandages. Yesterday he was out trotting in light boots, no bandages and clean legs.

Yorkville Belle, by her work shows herself well forward, more so than a year ago. Don Alongo may be leggy, but that is a peculiarity of the family. Long Taw was up in the air. Don Alonzo has filled out and performed everything asked of him. Charace, the promising son of Caraxus, is one of the most improved horses at the track. He has grown and filled out in proportion, his lines being those of a well-made 8-year-old. Sport, last year's promising 2-year-old, has improved. He has a slint which grows somewhat painful, but that is an outside affliction. Leonawell, the picture of health, showed indica-tions of being sent a little too fast and a little let up seemed necessary. His brother is Great Guns. Nomad will be likely to prove a great horse this year, although not an arry one. He may be seen at the Gravesend, neeting, but showing as good as he did let meeting, but showing as good as he did last fall, he is not likely to be knocked about as fall, he is not likely to be knocked about as much this year.

Dobbins, Sir Francis' younger brother, looks the picture of health. But thus far he has been distanced by his companions. Ajax, of Col. Ruppert's string, is doing very strong work. He will be hard to beat if he runs up to the work he has shown. Madstone carries his reputation. His action is attractive. Magician, with his light coat and dark blinkers, has been doing good work. He should be ready for the first race at Elizabeth if it suits him. R. Eclaire looks and goes sound. The handsome little brown mare's legs have no burrs on them. She should certainly o burrs on them. She should certainly train this year. Fairy has not only been doing good work but has been speeded, and she answered the call. Kingston shows no signs of his rheumatism, and bids fair to prove a second Rhadamanthus, not only in regard to speed, but life and usefulness. Stonewall takes regular gallops, with occasional work, and enjoys it. Judge Morrow is certainly a formidable horse for the Brooklyn handicap, judged by his present condition. All signs of any aliment have passed away and he seems to be able to get on. Illume is a great horse. It is probable he has shown the fastest mile yet seen at Gravesend or anywhere else North, where only training is going on. Gov. Foraker is doing good work for the Burridge brothers. train this year. Fairy has not only been do yet seen at Gravesend or anywhere else North, where only training is going on. Gov. Foraker is doing good work for the Burridge brothers.

If reports say true Phil Dwyer has some great 2-year-olds. Few of that age have yet been sent along.

The horses at Sheepshead Bay likely to most interest the racing public are those of Col. North, the Nitrate King. High Commissioner and the rest of the string are enjoying the best of health and likely to prove worthy contestants when well placed. Pactolus, a handicap possibility, is also at the track and doing good exercise work only thus far. Wm. Lakeland has a number of promising 2 and 3-year-olds of Mr. Keene's in his private stables. They are all doing well.

Tammany has developed into a grand 4-year-old. He is much better looking than his sire, froquois. As Matt Burns opened the double doors revealing Tammany at Monmouth Park he said: "He has grown bigger than I thought," and Tammany poked out his bald face in recognition of the compliment. He stands is hands siy high, his head in its outlines is perfect, his heart is deep and his loins are stout and staunch, while his legs are clean and sound. Matt Eurns says his horses will not be seen in public till the beginning of fifteen. His desire is to train no more than ten, and sharcus Daly echoes the idea. The trainers at Gravesend and at Sheepshead Bay have been talking about the backwardness of the Morris Park horses.

John Hyland says the Morris Park horses.

John Hyland says the Morris Park horses are in as good condition and as far advanced as those at Gravesend and Sheepshead, and he ought to know. Supt. Gorman, with his usual care has the track in perfect condition, and James Villepigne has the club-house ready right now for the crowds which whil throng it during the June meeting. The strongest stable at Morris Park is Gideon & Daly's. The king of the stable is His Highness. He is in perfect health, although he is not within several weeks of a race. His legs are perfect and the shoulder trouble which bothered last se been rehearsed locally. Here is an outsider's view. "Hyder All" says in the Chicago Dispack:

Dates clash this month at St. Louis, East St. Louis, Nashville, Lexington and Haward thorne, and yet from present indications there will be no lack of horses with which to carry on racing at any of the points mentioned. The fight oetween the rival St. Louis organizations promises to be a hot one, and can only result in hurting the East St. Louis organization. Next to the meeting at Washington Park this summer that at St. Louis promises to be the most successful heid in the West. St. Louis has always been a favorite racing point with owners, and its stakes this season have closed better than ever before, a higher class of horses being represented in the test. All the good horses are certain to go to the Fair Grounds track, while its rival across the river will have to be content with the skates and cast off. Good horses always attract the crowds, and that being the case it is difficult to see where the managers of the East St. Louis track expect to profit by the clash of dates. The track at Nashville, too, is bound to suffer more or less, just as it did last season when it attracted only the better class of horses, but had stake engagements, and these were shipped right to St. Louis just as soon as their engagements were filled.

The fight made by the East St. Louis Jockey Club on the Fair Grounds organization is a matter of spitework pure and simple, and those who have the best wishes of the turf at heart will be gied indeed if they should make a monstrous failure of their proposed meeting, and this, judging from present indications.

At the Sayannah wheelmen's meet Saturday Zimmerman came in behind Harry Wheeler of New York twice and once behind F. K. Williams, a local man, who had a lead of sixty yards in half a mile. The races that Wheeler won were the quarter mile open, won in 55s. to Zimmerman's $1.5s., and the one mile in 2m. 53s. Zimmerman's half mile in the handicap, made in 1m. 7%s. was the fastest time ever made in competition. Hereafter all entries for races by Zimmerman and Wheeler will be made through the Sayannah week for New York and will soon go to Europe.
